

Air University Human Research Ethics Committee

To make sure that the academic and research practises at the university uphold the highest ethical standards, the Air University Ethics Committee is essential. The committee, made up of professionals from many fields, is committed to promoting honesty, fairness, and transparency in all facets of university operations.

The committee is in charge of examining research proposals including both human and animal experimentation, making sure that they adhere to ethical standards and legal criteria. It carries out exhaustive evaluations with a focus on informed consent and ethical behaviour in order to protect the rights and well-being of participants.

In addition, the Air University Ethics Committee is in charge of monitoring academic honesty and dealing with plagiarism, cheating, and other ethical violations. It ensures that the academic community at the university is dedicated to sustaining academic integrity by fostering a culture of honesty and responsible scholarship.

The following committee members are;

1. Registrar
